INDEPENDENT STUDY OR INSTRUCTIONAL REVIEW REQUEST

Date: _____ requests to enroll in:
(Student Name)

NUR4999 Independent Study. This course allows the student, with faculty guidance, to concentrate on an approved subject not covered in regularly scheduled courses. This may take the form of individual or small group supervised study, literature survey, analysis, design or clinical study. A final evaluation, the format of which is left to the discretion of the faculty advisor, is required at the end of the semester. (prereq. junior standing, up to three credits may be taken with approval of program director or chair of School of Nursing).

NUR4999 IR Instructional Review. This course is for a nursing student who had a gap of two or more consecutive semesters (excluding summer for traditional students) between clinical courses who was unable to demonstrate the competencies of the last nursing clinical course through a formal assessment. If the student is not successful in the instructional review, the student must repeat the last nursing clinical course under assessment. The instructional review is completed as a satisfactory/unsatisfactory.
